(Full minutes of all Parish Council meetings are available on the Parish website www.swindonparish.org.uk. They are also available on request from the Chairman.)

The Council has been discussing the provision (or lack of provision) of defibrillators in the parish. The consensus is that, even though we hope they will never be used, it would be good to have better coverage in the area. We know of one in Sainsbury's and one in Next but haven't been able to locate any others. We are thinking of getting one for the outside of the Village Hall that could provide aid to users of the Hall and also users of the playing fields. The way our dog chases a ball in the park I keep thinking he might require one at any moment. If a defibrillator is never used it is a waste of money but if it saves a life it is priceless. Anyway, I will get some quotes. We would be interested to hear your views. I just hope there is a defibrillator nearby if I am ever offered a pay rise.

You will all (hopefully) be aware that the Village Hall needs new members for its committee. By the time you read this a meeting will have taken place between hall users, the members of the current committee and the parish councillors. If you are interested in stepping forward to take a role in the continuing story of this important resource (or know someone who might be) please get in touch.

We continue to discuss maintenance of the sundial mosaic in the park. We have identified a local company that can help specifically with the mosaics themselves but the problems appear to run much deeper than aesthetics.

The foundation of the mosaic appears to have been inadequate with a large crack having appeared across the surface. This leaves us in a bit of a quandary. We want the mosaic to be robust so that we don't face the same problems again in a few months time. If anyone knows of any specialist firms active in this field we would love to hear from you.

I know we have quite a few people in the parish who are happy to volunteer their time. We conducted a litter pick in June (so long ago!), a useful and sociable activity. I was going to plan one for September but, due to unforeseen circumstances, I will have to delay it until November. I am trying to co-ordinate with the Borough Council's litter picking activities so that we don't follow each other round the streets! We have also talked about tackling some overgrown vegetation issues. It would be good to set regular dates so that people can plan ahead and make sure they are not on holiday when there is rubbish to pick up! There is a town that is training pigeons to pick up cigarette butts and put them into a machine that then gives them a reward. How many pigeons would it take to get a shopping trolley out of the brook?

We have in the past highlighted the problem of football teams leaving plastic bottles at the side of the pitches in the park. I recently received information on a survey done along a 100 metre section of the Severn. Over 800 items of rubbish were collected, 87% of which were plastic.

On the plastic theme, as with all of us, councils can strive to "do the right thing" and end up getting bitten in the posterior. Chepstow Town Council became the first council in South Wales to achieve a "plastic free" certification and, in a move described as beyond irony, celebrated by unveiling a large plastic banner.

There have been relatively few planning matters to address in recent meetings. The Council continue to see planning applications where the quality of the information supplied is so poor that it is very difficult to form an opinion. In the interests of cost saving the Borough Council no longer supplies the Parish Council with paper copies of applications. We'll need to get one of these 60 inch plasma TVs to view them. It would also be good for Match of the Day.

I have caught on to how Karen makes it look as if I am rambling at great length. I give her an article that fits on one page, and she increases the font size to stretch it out. I go for quality rather than quantity though I am sure I generally miss both targets.

Licensing of Revd. George Davis

Revd. George Davis was licensed to the North Cheltenham Team Ministry in a lively service in Elmstone Hardwicke church attended by people from all the Team churches.

George's arrival brings the Team staffing back to its full quota of three stipendiary clergy for the first time in nearly two years - and that prompted a cheer from the congregation.

Representatives from George's previous parish in Worcester were there to "hand him over" to the Bishop of Tewkesbury who then proceeded to lead George through a series of declarations and oaths before licensing him. George was then installed by the Archdeacon of Cheltenham - he was led to the Vicar's seat in the church.

In the next stage of the service representatives from various organisations in the community surrounded George and his wife, Jo, to welcome them. This was followed by a general welcome from the whole congregation.

George chimed one of the church bells to indicate to the community that he had begun his new ministry.

We enjoyed a buffet supper after the service in a marquee which was standing up well to the ravages of Storm Bronagh.

George will work in all the Team churches but his main duties will be with us in Swindon Village and Elmstone Hardwicke; we are looking forward to working with him in this new phase of our church's life.

A Vicar's Welcome

A warm hello to you all from another new Team Vicar in the North Cheltenham Team Ministry, Rev George. I come to you directly from the Worcester diocese and am very excited to be with you all. Prior to ordination to the diaconate in 2010 in the Diocese of Lichfield, I worked in Enfield, North London in a Secondary School. I trained for ordained ministry at the College of the Resurrection, Mirfield in Yorkshire where I spent the best part of two years. My training parish was in All Saints Church with St Mary Magdalene, West Bromwich as assistant Curate where I spent four years before heading off to the Worcester diocese for another four spent at Holy Trinity and St Matthew's Church, in Ronkswood as their team Vicar.

I'm excited to be here in Cheltenham in the Gloucester Diocese, as are my family, in this a new phase and chapter in my ministry and life. As is always the case when moving, feeling settled takes some time. Already I have been blown away by the hospitality, care and love that has been shown to my family and me; and it has already gone a long way in helping with transitioning. It has been very encouraging. As Team Vicar I look forward to sharing in that same hospitality, care and love with you all in the name of God who calls us all to be these very things and more. I look forward to sharing my thoughts and feelings with you in future editions of the 'Village News', but for now I leave you with a poem that has been a recent reminder to me that ministry is always God's in the first instance. It's called, 'God's Dream', by Charles Peguy. (see next page)

Revd. George Davis

God's Dream

The Lord God said: I myself will dream a dream within you,
Good dreaming comes from me, you know.
My dreams seem impossible,
not too practical nor for the cautious man or woman;
a little risky sometimes,
a trifle brash perhaps.
Some of my friends prefer to rest more comfortably
in sounder sleep with visionless eyes.
But from those who share my dreams
I ask a little patience,
a little humour,
some small courage,
and a listening heart – I will do the rest.
Then they will risk and wonder at their daring;
run, and marvel at their speed;
build, and stand in awe
at the beauty of their building.
You will meet me often
as you work in your companions who share the risk,
in your friends who believe in you
enough to lend their own dreams,
their own hands,
their own hearts,
to your building.
In the people who will stand in your doorway,
stay awhile
And walk away knowing that they too can find a dream.
There will be sun-filled days
And sometimes a little rain –
a little variety both come from me.
So come now, be content.
It is my dream you dream,
my house you build,
my caring you witness;
my love you share
And this is the heart of the matter.

Wednesday Club

At our meeting on 5th September our speaker was Ben Ashenden who was speaking about "Tax Care and Toyboys" Although light hearted this was a very serious and somewhat complex talk on making a will and the importance of using a good solicitor to ensure your final wishes are carried out.

So, where does the Toyboy (or an old Boy) come into this? Well, if you are left a comfortably off widow and in time meet a toyboy whom you marry, if you were to die before him he could walk away with everything intended for the children of the first marriage, hence the importance again of a solicitor's advice when re-writing your will.

There was much laughter during this very serious talk but I think we all went home wondering if we'd done the right thing and in need of a stiff drink.

Our next meeting, on 3rd October, will be Jemma Fowkes telling us about "Birch, Beer and Bibles" in Tudor Times

Visitors always welcome to our meetings

The garden party worked out well this year. The galoshes were not called for and a pleasant evening was had. It was very nice to have some new members along and even some potential new members. The party was held in our new garden and kitchen at No 3, Swindon Hall.

It was interesting to be able to show those who had not been here before a view of the Hall not normally seen. The south west corner suffered a fire in 1940. It was reported in the papers but because of war time restrictions there was no mention of the probable cause, an incendiary bomb. Now at the time Swindon Hall was being used as an Army transit camp. However it is most unlikely that the bomb was actually aimed at the camp. It was much more likely that it was one of the many hundreds of bombs scattered liberally over the county, either jettisoned by enemy aircraft that thought they were under attack or had a technical problem or merely because they saw a light below. Many were on their way to bomb towns in the Midlands but were glad of any excuse to not visit the more heavily defended towns.

The result at Swindon Hall was that at war's end one corner was in a bad state with the roof missing and considerable fire damage. When the Hall was later sold for conversion into five separate dwellings the developers decided to merely do the best they could with this corner and made what had been a two storey structure built in about 1750 into a single storey cottage. The rubble was all put into the cellar which was sealed off, the damaged walls were stuccoed and painted white, Crittall windows were installed and a single slope tile roof put on top. This gave the rather incongruous effect of a rural cottage attached to a Georgian Mansion. In our small rear garden there is a flight of fine stone steps that once led up to the tennis courts that now go nowhere, but from the top step one can see the results of the Luftwaffe's efforts by way of missing walls, hanging doorways, isolated chimneys and a blanked off house end. Indeed in our attic there is one area where the old charred lath and plaster work can be seen, along with the names of L/Cpl Hubbard and Sapper Scanlon chalked on the beams in memory of their wartime stay here.

The single storey cottage was designated 4, Swindon Hall but over twenty years ago it was bought by No 2 and converted to student accommodation. When the last owners of No 2 moved on we bought half of what had been the old No 4 and it was made into a large new kitchen. In the roof area we found the base of two fireplaces that would have heated bedrooms before the Luftwaffe's modification process and signs that one part of the kitchen would once have housed the master's coach. My wife would like to send belated thanks to the Luftwaffe without whose efforts she would never have got her new kitchen.

Finally, to our small contribution to Heritage Open Days. We had about 30 people attending, split about half and half between villagers and those from further afield. It is particularly pleasing to have those who live here taking an interest in our history. The weather was fine and I think all those who came on the walk enjoyed it. Thanks to Eileen who provided a really good display about all those villagers who took part in the First World War including a few who are not included on our war memorial. And, of course, many thanks to Karen and the team who provided teas and buns. I doubt the proceeds bought more than half a church roof tile but I was certainly glad of my cuppa after a couple of hours of talking.

1st Swindon Village Scout Group

Following on from our Summer Camp at the Chamboree International Jamboree in Cheshire at the end of July, our summer was rounded off by the annual trip to Titley at the end of August. In recent years we have been running this as a 'Leaders and Helpers' camp and it has become a firm favourite with all of those attending. It is so nice to arrive in the field, set up camp and just relax for six days! All the food is still cooked on camp fires by Mike and Baz and is up to their usual high standard. The weather was mixed this year with some fine and sunny days... and some very wet ones – but it didn't seem to spoil the fun. The site is as beautiful as ever, but it is the people that come together each year that make the camp and the time spent together so memorable. The "Titley family" continues to grow each year and we had 44 of us camping there this summer – Happy Days!

The first weekend camp of the autumn gave six of our Scouts the opportunity to camp on an airfield, with Scouts from five other troops in Gloucestershire. This County organised Air Activities weekend is always oversubscribed and there is a three-year waiting list to get onto this course. We arrived at Croft Farm Airfield (near Defford in Worcestershire) on the Friday evening and set up our tents. Saturday dawned with low cloud and light intermittent showers – no good for flying! After a hearty cooked breakfast, the Scouts spent the day learning all about meteorology and how this affects aircraft in flight, how to navigate when you're up in the air and all about the instruments that a pilot needs to use and understand. In the afternoon, they got to marshal a plane on the runway and have a thorough look around one as well. While the weather and visibility improved on the Sunday, the wind also strengthened and so another no-flying day was declared – safety always the priority. So, at the end of the camp, the Scouts had earned three badges: the Aeronautics Activity badge, Meteorologist badge and Navigator badge, but they will have to wait a while longer for their flights – which we hope will take place over one of the coming weekends.

As a footnote to the Air Camp it is worth mentioning that after several years of training, one of our leaders, Shane, managed to complete his PPL (Private Pilot's Licence) at the end of August this year – Congratulations, Biggles (as he's now known)!

As we head into Autumn, we start another Scouting year and all the sections have had their first few meetings. We have plenty of fun and adventure planned over the coming weeks and months including Harvest Festival, a sleepover for the Beavers and a canal weekend and the Operation Bald Eagle camp for the Scouts.

Barry Simon gave a very interesting and informative talk on the history of aviation in Gloucestershire at our September meeting. A couple of things that were mentioned being that the first hot air balloon landing was near Birdlip, thus the pub there being called the Air Balloon, and that it was so named by Dr Jenner, who we know had several other connections with Gloucestershire.

On a lovely sunny day we met with some of the members of Benhall WI at Cheltenham Racecourse Station for a ride on the steam train to the newly opened Broadway Station. We enjoyed being served with a cream tea on the way and, after a few minutes on the newly restored station, returned to Cheltenham. Great memories of childhood train journeys! The Walking Netball continues to be enjoyable, though we are moving to a new venue at the YMCA Sports Hall in Arle Road. It is still on a Monday but at a new time of 12.30–1.30. Do come and join us if you feel would benefit from an hour of fun and exercise, you do not need to be a WI member.

Taster sessions of Indoor Bowls, Archery and Drumming were also enjoyed, Eileen hosted an afternoon of Garden Games followed by a cream tea, our meal out was at the Clarence Social restaurant and we listened to an evening of male-voice singing at the Pittville Pump Room.

Sue and I spent an afternoon and evening at Denman College to celebrate the colleges 70th Anniversary. With picnic hampers, Pimms, barbecue, raffle, crafty things to make and garden games to play we were entertained with several musical acts. The Anywhere Opera singing Gilbert and Sullivan, the Isis Chamber Orchestra, the Temple Funk Collective who 'brought the house down' (except we were outside) and Lola Lamour who entertained us with popular songs from the past. It was a great event to mark the occasion.

October activities include workshops for Staging and Displaying, Kumihimo and Glass Engraving. There are walks and clay pigeon shooting taking place outdoors. We are going on a coach trip to Richmond-on-Thames to include a tour of the Poppy Factory. The monthly Book and Craft clubs continue to be popular, as does our Meal-out.

Andrew North is to tell us of the 'Cheltenham Group of Hospitals in WW1' at our meeting on October 1st at 7.30pm at St Nicolas' Hall, Swindon Lane. Please feel free to join us for the evening.

Christmas Tree Festival

Hobbies and Pastimes

Saturday 1st and Sunday 2nd
December

11.00am to 5.00pm

We invite everybody to decorate a tree on the theme of "Hobbies and Pastimes" and display it to the public. The theme can be interpreted in any way you wish; we've had some quite wacky entries in the past. It's not a competition - the only honour is to be voted the favourite tree by the visitors.

The Festival makes a lovely start to the festive season, bringing together religious and secular aspects of Christmas.

If you would like to take part in this annual extravaganza or find out more about it please contact me.

Urban hedgehog project launches in Swindon Village

Hedgehogs are the UK's favourite mammal according to a recent poll but many people may be surprised to learn that gardens in towns and cities such as Cheltenham and Gloucester are vital for these endangered animals.

Gloucestershire Wildlife Trust has launched a project to improve urban green spaces for hedgehogs and urgently needs the help of residents in Swindon Village. These volunteers will create Hedgehog Ways, neighbourhoods where hedgehogs can move safely between gardens. Volunteers will receive training from specialists at Gloucestershire Wildlife Trust and ongoing support.

"Thanks to information from local people, we know that a number of hedgehogs are already living in this area. Hedgehogs have the potential to be safe and supported in these places, with the help of local people. Gardens can easily provide food and shelter for hedgehogs, and help them to move to other areas of safety," says Georgia Spooner, Urban Wildlife Project Officer at Gloucestershire Wildlife Trust.

Hedgehog Way is supported by the People's Trust for Endangered Species and the British Hedgehog Preservation Society. Volunteers can spend as little or as much time as they can spare and will assess gardens and other green spaces to see how hedgehog friendly they are; start to make these places better for hedgehogs, and report sightings of hedgehogs.

Once a familiar and well-loved visitor to our gardens, hedgehog numbers have fallen significantly in the last few decades. It is estimated that there are 1.5 million hedgehogs in the UK, down from 36 million in the 1950s. According to the People's Trust for Endangered Species, losses in towns and cities appear to have slowed, and the number of hedgehogs found in urban gardens at night may be increasing.
